Content Writer – Remote – Publishing Role with Training

Description

Position Overview

Our client, a growing digital publishing company specializing in nonfiction Kindle titles, is expanding its content production team. They are seeking entry-level freelance collaborators to support the creation, formatting, and submission of nonfiction eBooks using AI-assisted workflows. This position is ideal for individuals looking for freelance writing opportunities that don't require prior experience, a writing degree, or a personal portfolio.

This is not a traditional content writing or article pitching role. Instead, you will be involved in a structured process of organizing and assembling AI-generated text into fully formatted Kindle books. The training is provided, tools are included, and you will be compensated per project.

About the Client's Publishing System

This role is designed around a proprietary system that simplifies Kindle publishing through structured templates, content guides, and automation tools. As a beginner-friendly opportunity, it removes the complexity of traditional freelance writing and replaces it with a step-by-step system where success is based on following procedures rather than creative writing skill.

What You'll Be Doing

Each project will walk you through a standardized process. You will:

– Receive a Nonfiction Book Assignment

Topics include evergreen niches like productivity, digital habits, parenting, side hustles, and mental wellness. Each assignment comes with an outline, chapter count, and word goal.

– Use AI Tools to Generate Chapter Content

You will be given access to prompt-based AI systems that generate draft chapters. Your job is to select, refine, and organize this content according to the client's tone and structure guide.

– Clean, Edit, and Format the Manuscript

Using included checklists, you'll remove filler text, standardize formatting, and prepare the manuscript using Kindle-ready templates.

– Apply Metadata and Optimize Listings

You will use provided swipe files and keyword research tools to generate titles, subtitles, and descriptions optimized for the Amazon marketplace.

Daily Workflow Example

- Morning: Review new assignment and study outline
- Midday: Generate chapter content and organize it in the template
- Afternoon: Finalize formatting and complete metadata
- End of Day: Submit project for review

Each project takes approximately 5–8 hours to complete depending on your pace and familiarity with the tools.

Compensation Model

- Fixed per-project pay with no time tracking
- Payments issued weekly via PayPal or direct deposit
- Performance bonuses for speed and consistency
- Opportunities to scale to multiple projects per week

This is a true freelance role—you'll have full control over your workload and schedule.

Training & Support

Before taking your first paid assignment, you'll go through an onboarding sequence that includes:

- Introductory training modules
- Tool walkthroughs and use cases
- A mock project to demonstrate comprehension
- Access to an FAQ center and live support chat

After your first approved project, you'll gain access to higher-paying assignments and advanced formatting options.

Who This Role Is Best For

This beginner-level freelance writing role is designed for individuals who:

- Are fluent in English and can read/edit text
- Want to start working online with no experience
- Prefer structured tasks over creative writing
- Can follow instructions and complete templates
- Are available for part-time, remote work

No background in publishing or writing is necessary. The role is ideal for those looking to break into online freelance work in a low-pressure environment.

What You'll Gain

- Real-world experience producing nonfiction Kindle books
- Familiarity with AI-assisted content systems
- Understanding of Amazon metadata, categories, and listings
- Ability to scale remote freelance income with no cold outreach
- A flexible system to work from anywhere, anytime
