Online Opportunities Entry Level | $25-$35/Hour Digital Chat Assistant - Perfect for New Job Seekers

Description

Finally—A Remote Job That Actually Means Entry-Level

Tired of seeing “entry-level” job posts that want 3 years of experience and a college degree? Same here. This isn’t one of those. We’re hiring Remote Online Chat Assistants for a real entry-level position that pays $25–$35 an hour, offers full training, and lets you work from the comfort of your home. If you’re organized, can type fast, and know how to follow directions, you’ve already got what it takes.

What You’ll Be Doing

You’ll handle live chat conversations with customers who need help navigating accounts, checking order status, updating payment methods, and solving other basic issues. You won’t need to answer phones, jump on Zoom, or do any cold outreach. Just open the chat box, respond clearly and kindly, and move on to the next person.

Daily Tasks Include

- Logging into your live chat dashboard and accepting inbound messages
- Using saved templates and resources to quickly respond to questions
- Troubleshooting issues with orders, logins, or billing using simple internal tools
- Typing clearly, quickly, and with professionalism across multiple chats at once
- Summarizing every interaction accurately in the system
- Tagging any complex problems for the support lead to handle later

Why This Role Is Ideal for Entry-Level Candidates

- We don’t expect you to have worked in customer support before
- All training is included and paid—you’ll learn as you go
- You’re judged on your output and consistency, not your background
- There’s no degree requirement—just show up, learn fast, and communicate well
- We provide feedback and support every step of the way
