Online Support Associate – No College Degree Needed | $25–$35/hr | Work from Anywhere

Description

Position: Remote Support Associate
Compensation: $25–$35/hour
Location: Remote – United States
Schedule: Flexible, part-time or full-time
Experience Required: None
Education: No degree required

About the Role

We're currently hiring Remote Support Associates for a variety of entry-level roles across our client network. If you're searching for "remote jobs no degree," this is your chance to step into a reliable, well-paid opportunity that doesn't require a college education, formal experience, or a résumé packed with buzzwords. If you can follow directions, communicate clearly in writing, and stay on task, we'll train you for success.

This is a real, paid position—not a gig, MLM, or survey site. You'll be part of a distributed team providing behind-the-scenes support to digital companies and eCommerce brands.

Responsibilities

Your specific tasks will vary depending on project assignment, but may include:

- Handling live chat or email support using scripts and saved replies
- Moderating user-generated content (comments, reviews, media submissions)
- Tagging, formatting, or uploading files into content platforms
- Reviewing simple data sets or product listings for accuracy
- Updating internal documentation and reports

Most work is asynchronous and self-paced. You'll use tools like Google Docs, Slack, Notion, or Zendesk—all of which are taught during onboarding. No phone calls. No meetings unless scheduled in advance.
