

<https://remotefjobrecruiting.com/job/social-media-positions-25-35-an-hour-full-time/>

Social Media Positions | $25-$35 an Hour | Full-Time

Description

Snag Social Media Positions From Your Place

Looking for a spot where you can work from home and cash in? We've got social media positions paying $25-$35 an hour, full-time, no office required. If you're into whipping up posts that turn heads, tracking what's hot online, and linking up with people, this could be your fit. Imagine earning a good chunk while pushing brands forward—all from your room, a porch, or anywhere you've got signal. These positions are open and waiting.

Social media positions are lighting up the job scene. Companies are after folks to take charge of their online pages—like Instagram or TikTok—and make waves. New to it or already hooked? These roles pay you to shine. Let's unpack what you'd do, what you need, and why it's a win.

What You'll Do in Social Media Positions

In social media positions, you'll keep a brand's online pulse strong. You'll craft posts—like Instagram stunners or Twitter quips—that rack up likes. You'll map out when they drop, keeping the flow steady. You'll chat with followers too—giving shoutouts or solving their questions—to build a solid fan base. Then, you'll peek at stuff like reach or engagement to tweak what's next.

It's a playground for your creative side. You might brainstorm a TikTok that could catch fire one day, then polish a LinkedIn update the next. Staying current's key—like catching Instagram's new filter or Twitter's latest twist—so your posts hit hard. If something misses or a fan's upset, you'll sort it out quick. You'll do it all from home, pulling in $25-$35 an hour and growing skills that stick.

Every day's a fresh mix. You could be picking a video look one hour, then digging into rival posts the next. You might ping a team online, but you're never stuck in a car. These positions keep you buzzing wherever you are.

What You'll Need to Nail It

To land social media positions, you need creativity—making posts that pop is the gig. You've got to keep it together too, running platforms and deadlines on your own. Fast internet's a dealbreaker—slow speeds kill the vibe.

No need to be a pro yet, but some social media basics go far. Know what makes an

Hiring organization

Social Media Recruiters

Employment Type

Full-time, Part-time

Industry

Customer Service

Job Location

Remote work from: United States

Base Salary

$ 25 - $ 35

Date posted

April 29, 2026

Valid through

01.01.2029

Instagram post fly? Got a sense for Twitter's beat? If you've messed with Canva or schedulers like Later, that's a boost—but it's not a must. You'll talk to folks online, so keep it real and friendly.

Degrees? Not here. These positions are open to starters. Ever run your own account or helped a friend's page? That's enough. If you're quick to spot trends—like what's popping on TikTok—you're set for $25-$35 an hour.

Why These Positions Rock

What's cool about social media positions? The pay—$25-$35 an hour, full-time—tops a lot of regular jobs, and you skip the commute. Work from your couch, a park—anywhere with Wi-Fi.

You're building stuff—posts, followers, wins—that gets seen. Every try hones skills like content or timing that companies chase. It's a position that sets you up for more, all at $25-$35 an hour.

It vibes with your life too. Full-time, sure, but you might shift hours for post peaks. Love to travel? Pack your laptop. Hate cramped offices? Stay loose. It's a gig with cash and freedom.

Claim Your Spot

We're filling social media positions now—don't sit it out! It's your chance to take a role and make $25-$35 an hour from home. Get in quick!

FAQ: Social Media Positions Explained

Q: What's the day-to-day in these positions?

You'll make posts, time them, connect with fans, and track results—all from home.

Q: Do I need a big resume?

Nope—just some spark gets you $25-$35 an hour.

Q: What should I know to start?

A bit of Instagram or Twitter; tools like Canva can come later.

Q: How much do these positions pay?

$25-$35 an hour, full-time—solid cash!

Q: Are these stuck in one place?

No way—all remote with internet.

Q: What's the growth like?

You could hit bigger roles or branch out solo.

Q: How do I snag one?

Head to RemoteJobRecruiting.com—spots are open.

Q: Are hours locked in?

Full-time, but you might adjust for posts.

Q: Can I start with no experience?

Yep—jump in and earn $25-$35 an hour.

Q: Why are these positions all over?

Brands want online pros, and remote's booming.

How to Grab This Social Media Positions Spot

Ready for social media positions? Fill out the form, send your resume, and tell us why you're the one. We'll reach out if it clicks—don't hold back!

Disclosure

Disclaimer: Please note that RemoteJobRecruiting.com is NOT a recruitment agency. We are not an agent or representative of any employer.

Marketing Disclosure: This website is a marketplace. As such you should know that the owner has a monetary connection to the product and services advertised on the site. The owner receives payment whenever a qualified lead is referred but that is the extent of it.

Be sure to check out our partner sites at Jobtacular